

Lunch & Learns - External

Lunch & Learns take place on Wednesdays at 12:30 CT

What is a Lunch & Learn Session?

- A volunteer leads an informal chat / presents on a subject for 30 minutes
- Sessions are recorded as artifacts, shared publicly, and stored below for future viewing
- Subjects can vary, industry-related is nice but we also use this time to provide a forum for everyone to weigh in on our culture and practices. Personal passion projects are also encouraged (e.g. Winemaking, BBQ best practices)
- At least one team project demo is strongly encouraged per month
- For topics that represent a core skill or craft at Focused Labs, consider sharing your talk with a broader audience.

Artifacts

- Some previous Lunch and Learn events include:
 - Justin Williams: Going zero to one; the art of faking it until you make it
 - Emily: LeadDev Volume 1
 - Shavina: The MIT Mystery Hunt
 - Sarah Kainec: Blogging
 - Mike Steich: Git hooks with Husky 🐶
 - Shahed: Design Tokens
 - Erin & Rachel: An Ocean of Notion
 - Vince: Refactoring

- Katy S: Engineering Interview Training
- Kirill: Better Testing
- Luke: What is Velocity and why it matters
- JT: Winemaking 101
- Claudia: Story Mapping
- Max: Dump & Sort exercise
- Ryan: Dilettantes
- Nanxi: How might we
- Austin: Focused Hours
- Peter: Backgammon: the world's oldest board game
- Katy Scott: Working Styles